

CITY TO START CAMPAIGN TO IMPROVE THE STREETS NOW IN A BAD CONDITION

Improvement work on Ogdens' streets, particularly of the heavily traveled thoroughfares, will be undertaken at once, Commissioner Chris Flygare announced this morning. Already workmen are being employed on Harrison avenue, to repair the road from Twenty-fifth street to the canyon entrance and another force is being utilized in placing Twelfth street from Washington avenue to the canyon, in condition. North Washington avenue will be the next taken up.

"There have been material delays in road repair work this year," said Commissioner Flygare today, "but they were unavoidable delays. First, the weather conditions were such that repairs could not be undertaken; then came the demand for irrigation system changes and repairs, made necessary by the city garden movement. This took an immense amount of time. Street sprinkling started before we could get repair work underway. The automobile traffic is about 500 per cent what it was four years ago. These automobiles travel over 200 miles of dirt and macadam streets.

"A little rut is worn, the street sprinkler wears the loose dirt and rock in this rut and it becomes muddy. Then an auto comes along, the mud flies out and a deeper 'cup' or rut is made. Auto traffic is harder on dirt and macadam roads than horse-drawn traffic—that is a fact generally recognized now.

"But we are getting down to real hard work on the repairs now. To properly repair Washington avenue would cost $300 to a block. That would mean to scarify the roadway, to place new macadam, to roll it several times. This is a heavier expense than the city can stand. But it will be placed in much better condition under plans we are now formulating."

Commissioner Flygare called attention to the fact that Ogdens, as a municipality of the second class, can only levy a two-mill tax for street purposes. From this fund must be paid the street lighting bill; the cost of street sprinkling, cleaning and sweeping; the expense of gutter cleaning; irrigation canal maintenance and other bills. When this is deducted from $60,000, the amount of the taxation fund for street purposes, it reduces materially the amount that can be used for repair work.

MEN CANNOT BE FOUND TO WORK AT HIGH WAGES AND FACTORIES ARE SHORT-HANDED

With many of the young men of the city enlisted in the army or navy, others working in the fields and orchards outside the city, and others suffering from that form of disease commonly known as "spring fever," Ogdens manufacturers are faced with a serious problem in trying to relieve the existing labor shortage.

Superintendent J. G. Leonard of the American Can factory started out the early part of the week to make a personal effort to secure men to work at manual labor in the can factory. The work was of the kind any young man, or middle-aged one, of fair physique could easily do. The hardest work of the job was pushing a truck from one department of the factory to the adjoining department.

Approaching a bench in City Hall park, on which were seated three robust men, who apparently had nothing to do but enjoy the weather, Superintendent Leonard started to make them an offer.

"We want some men to work at the can factory. We'll pay $4 a day and you don't have to be experienced workers."

Escape From Work.

The man to whom Superintendent Leonard addressed his remarks yawned, stretched his limbs, and said he didn't think he cared about going to work. Turning to make his offer to the other two men, Mr. Leonard saw them hurrying away. The word "work" had been enough for them. Like true believers in the gospel of "safety first," the men had decided to make their "getaway" before the superintendent could confront them with an offer of $4 a day for ordinary labor. Further efforts in the same direction availed Mr. Leonard nothing. Labor was not to be had at any price.

Frank Fouts, general agent of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, had the same story to tell.

"Am I busy?" replied Mr. Fouts to a query. "I should say I am. I'm spending every spare minute of my time hustling up and down lower Twenty-fifth street, vainly trying to induce these fellows without jobs to come to work for us. But it seems to be a hopeless task."

Running Short-Handed.

Inquiry at the factory of the Everfresh Food company elicited the information that, despite the fact that the pea run this month is as large, and even larger some days, than it was a year ago this time, the company is forced to operate with less hands than it did a year ago.

"It's practically impossible to obtain enough young men and young women to work for us this season," said Manager Parker. "We are paying good wages. Some of the girls are making two and three dollars a day, but such is the scarcity of avail-

RAPIDLY PROMOTED IN THE AVIATION SERVICE

Deforges W. Stephens, 22-year-old Ogdens youth who recently enlisted as a private in the United States aviation service, has just made his second flight alone in one of the army war planes at San Antonio, Texas, according to advices received from San Antonio by his friends in Ogdens.

Young Stephens is an expert automobile mechanic; having gained his experience in the Nelson blacksmith shop, and the Anderson-Larson shop in this city. It is just three months ago since he joined the aviation corps as a private. Within a few weeks he was listed as a first-class private, and at the end of his first month of service was made a corporal.

Corporal Stephens, with his wide knowledge of gas engines and his robust physique bids fair to make a splendid aviator.

Four other Utah boys who are in training in the aviation corps at San Antonio are also reported to be progressing rapidly.

Young Stephens' home in this city is at 2757 Volker avenue.

COMMUNITY CANNING WEEK BE OBSERVED IN BRIGHAM CITY

BRIGHAM CITY, July 14.—Community canning week will be observed in this city next week under the direction of Federal Food Demonstrator Miss Annie Christensen. A modern kitchen has been planned and equipped with electric stoves and pressure cookers and it is planned to can from 200 to 300 quarts of fruit and vegetables daily. Monday Miss Christensen will devote the day to demonstrating, and after that each of the four city wards will take their turn in canning, the work to be under the direction of the domestic science chairman of the respective wards. Saturday, the closing day, Mrs. Rev. A. G. Frank will be in charge.

Jesse W. Hoopes of the Stohl Furniture company has been transferred to the Malad district of that company and will leave soon for the Idaho city to take charge of the branch there. Mr. Hoopes was once manager of the company here, and will now relieve

VISITING MARINES ARE "RUSHED" BY AMERICAN GIRL BATHERS

Showing that British sailors have sweethearts in every port.

The sailors and marines of a visiting British warship have been pleased with the friendliness of American girl bathers who have done their bit in pledging "hands across the sea." The British jacksies will likely leave with regret, as a pleasant time is being had by all.

D. P. Woodland as manager of the Idaho house.

Work is progressing rapidly on the reconstruction of the Honeyville mill of the Bear River Milling company. The old mill was destroyed by fire a year ago. The building and equipment will be ready to handle the present grain crop. A large capacity elevator has been completed, and the storage of grain will begin soon.

Property owners in the vicinity of the Ogdens, Logan & Idaho railway depot and yards have petitioned the city council to abate the nuisance caused by having a sand and gravel dump located in the railroad yards which is used daily, causing a cloud of dust to arise and spread all over that residence section. The council referred the petition to the city attorney, and the matter will be prosecuted at once. It is said that damage suits have also grown out of the presence of the sand dump there the past year.

In order to bring growers of fruits and vegetables and consumers together, Miss Annie Christensen of the federal food commission has arranged a city market plan whereby she will devote an hour each morning to receiving and sending telephone calls. Consumers will file their wants in the office of Miss Christensen and the office will communicate with the growers and arrange for the direct marketing of their produce.

WORLD'S MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 14.—The short interest was again extremely aggressive at the outset of today's operations, leading stocks making further recessions under strong pressure. United States Steel opened with a sale of 5000 shares at 122 to 122 1/2, a maximum decline of 3/4 point. Other steels lost as much or more with metals, Union Pacific and International Paper. The market rallied almost immediately, however, on support of the prominent industrials, shipping, motors, oils, sugars and some of the equipment. Reading was about the only important railway issue to display more than slight strength. Liberty bonds were unchanged from yesterday's closing quotation at 99 40-50.

Rails, shipping and a few inactive specialties, notably the sugars, were the features of today's short session. The features of 1 to 3 points, while industrials advanced 1 to 2 after an irregular or heavy opening. Dealings retained all of their recent professional character, the trend of the market suggesting the usual week end covering of short contracts. The spirited advances in rails were led by Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Union Pacific and the coasts. American International corporation rose 3/4, International American Sugar 3/4. Steels and equipments reversed early losses to average gains of a point. The closing was strong.

Sales approximated 450,000 shares.

CHICAGO HOG MARKET

CHICAGO, July 14.—Unevenness of prices was a feature of the hog market today owing to activity of shippers and backwardness of killers. Nearly all of the cattle and sheep that arrived went direct to packers.

Chicago Quotations

CHICAGO, July 14.—Bearish constructions placed on news regarding the political crisis in Germany weakened the corn market today and so, too, did widespread rains in the southwest. On the decline, however, buying power seemed to broaden and a sharp upturn ensued. There were reports that in Iowa the crop was nearly three weeks late. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 cent off to 1/2 cent advance, with September at $1.58 1/2 to $1.59 and December at $1.12 to $1.12 1/2, were followed by a material setback for new crop futures and then a rally all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Wheat showed a little strength but the amount of business remained at nearly the zero point. Bullish crop reports from Canada formed the chief influence. After opening 1 cent higher, at $2.04 for July, the market held steady.

Only duplicated the action of corn. The most active buying was for a leading speculator.

Provisions were firm in sympathy with the hog market.
